The tutorial is up to date. However I still have problems since I added a new power of denial item which really does not exist in the game. It will hopefully show up soon after I have rebuilt the tutorial and added everything else. I have been busy with other stuff lately but I should be able to finish this tutorial in the next few days. Oh and I forgot to mention when you run the script, you are doing it as a robux (roblox), so you'll need to get some with the normal robux first.

A: Introduction The tutorial is up to date. I have added all the options that are in the game on the tutorial website. This tutorial uses c# but you can use any other language as long as it is able to interact with the game API. Some people are worried about viruses and exploits so I added a youtube video to explain how to use the script and the game in general.

The Background I have been into hacking since about high school with computers, but my understanding of them was nothing more than type-cast websites. This has changed with the release of Roblox and the SDK. I have tried to make a tutorial that simply explains how to interact with Roblox.

The Tutorial The very basics about Roblox

The Basics About Roblox You will want to use Roblox Studio to make your first game. With the graphically talented language of Java, and the flexibility of C# you get everything you need for a Roblox game.

Creating your first game Create a new game in Roblox Studio. Before you do anything else, in the second tab, scroll down to Create Game. A basic grid of 8x8 should be there, so click on add. You will see that the default settings are already there. Take note of them.

Configure the Grid settings - The background - The Game uses - The game style - The mechanics - The Starter Pack

On the game style tab change the Grid background to the color of your choice. On the game uses tab, make sure that the default is none. On the mechanics tab, change the game style to physics based. Make sure that the hard surface is off, so only the green surface is on. Click on the scissors icon and then take note of the height and width of the
